

Every Little War

Rehasher

You ever had those days you sit and stare
And the world could end but you won't care
Feeling anyone could take my place
Was it always ending up this way?

But when the sun goes down I'll carry on I'll tell myself I wanna be someone
When the sun comes with no guarantee
It doesn't matter what was meant to be

And I know I'll find my way
And everything will be okay
And every little war we're fighting for
Is just no more than a faded memory
A faded memory

When I was replaced I stayed the same
[?]
And erasing time already gone

When I was my best I'm never gonna be that strong

But when the sun goes down I'll lift my head
And I'll start giving a f*ck again
I gotta get this right I can't be wrong
I've been waiting for this much too long

And I know I'll find my way
And everything will be okay
And every little war we're fighting for
Is just no more than a faded memory
A faded memory

Every little war
Every little war
Every little war
Every little war
Is just no more than a faded memory
A faded memory
A faded memory
