

The day before the day I was born
The sun was shining up very strong.
The power within will hold out for long
All the little ones, all very small,
Fight with your heart with your mercy and soul
Do not never stop if you wanna reach your goal,
All the worries and miseries are holding
For you a chance to be free,

There is a place where everyone can hold their hands,
Just find the way to the Future Land

Horror and darkness, all we feel is fear
Sorrow and sadness, will not disappear
I won't get blind by the sun in my eyes
Goodness survive and evil dies
An armor of steel and a sword in my hand
I'm searching the way to the Future Land

The day after the day that I died
The moon was glowing into the night
As I was waiting for my last time to come
The sound of eternity was growing strong
The sadness in my soul was no longer there
It had just left me, just disappear
The lightning in this world was fading out
And now my world is travelling south

Stick
A story can't be told if you're changing the end
Don't take your life with shame
Come with me to the Future Land
