

Wit's All Been Done Before

Relient K

I wish I could innovate
And try to stretch your minds
Cause often, times, when guys like me
Do that they leave themselves behind
To clean the mess, or to impress
A little bit of everyone
But to innovate is a mistake
Cause there's nothing new under the sun

Cause we're all getting tired of the media
Cause they tries to hard to make you like something
Cause we're all getting tired of the media
Cause creating something new just recycling
With, with's all been done before
Yeah we do something to death
Then we we dig it up just to do it some more

And all my lines are pointing signs
But not all with dead ends
And I'm not sure the clever words
All sit well with my friends
I will not just sit and watch
And me the victim fall
I'll just have to do
What my gut tells me to
And hope that you will buy it all

Cause we're all getting tired of the media
Cause they tries to hard to make you like something
Cause we're all getting tired of the media
Cause creating something new just recycling
With, with's all been done before
Yeah we do something to death
And then we dig it up just to do it some more
With, with's all been done before
Yeah we do something to death
Then we dig it up just to do it some more

Originality is a ghost town
And it's oh so hard to get to
And when you do, then people start to hate you
Just scream what you believe out loud in a crowd
People will hate you
Cause repitition's just so safe
And repition is just like prison
And I prefer to be out of place
Cause I'm not really into prison

With, with's all been done before
Yeah we do something to death
Then we dig it up just to do it some more
(Cause we're all gettin tired of our media
Cause they try too hard to make you like something)
Cause we're all gettin tired of our media
Cause creating something new is just recycling

With, with's all been done before

Yeah we do something to death
Then we dig it up just to do it some more

With, with's all been done before
Yeah we do something to death
And then dig it up just to do it some more