

Disappear

Remedy Drive

the city walls are falling the waves are rushing in

the sirens sound their warning i'm running from the wind

don't hide Your face
i need to know You're here
and all the rest can disappear

now more than ever
i need to feel You near

fear is in the headlines if only light would come

but darkness is the forecast i'm waiting for the dawn i'm still waiting for the dawn

all my fears fade away with You all my tears make their way to You
