

Tiny Planets

Remember Sports

Spend the night in the crook of your arm
I held too long and now he's gone
Lose my cool in the heat of goodbye
But I'm not wrong, I can't be wrong this time

You're the reason why I can never hide
Lying side by side, this is worth a try

Tiny planets I said too much, between your guts and my bad luck
But maybe this time you're watching me too
Nothing to do but I really think I like you

You're the reason why I can never hide
Lying side by side, this is worth a try
Impending atrophy, this is killing me
Say you'll stay with me
Say you'll stay with me
