

Someone's getting hurt and it's not me
I cut off both my hands for free
If the sums big enough, maybe that, that's too much
I think I'm growing up just a little bit early

Looking down the barrel is where I feel at home
The edge is getting closer and I'm not afraid to jump
My feet are moving faster than ever before
I hope you feel alright 'cause I know I don't

You are on your own
Don't you feel alone?
You are on your own
Don't you feel alone?

Stability is fun, but you can't breath
I whispered to you but you won't look back at me
I wait long enough, maybe then I'll have some fun
I think it's moving too fast for me

Looking down the barrel is where I feel at home
The edge is getting closer and I'm not afraid to jump
My feet are moving faster than ever before
I hope you feel alright 'cause I know I don't

Looking down the barrel is where I feel at home
The edge is getting closer and I'm not afraid to jump
My feet are moving faster than ever before
I hope you feel alright 'cause I know I don't

You are on your own
Don't you feel alone?
You are on your own
Don't you feel alone?
