

i broke my neck when i fell for you

Rémy

I broke my neck when I fell for you
And I'll lay here dead if you told me to
Cause there's nothing left that I wouldn't do
Cause I broke my neck when I fell for you

I'm not dumb enough to fuck with fate
But I'm not smart enough to let you escape
And you're not easy, you're a guessing game
But I'll keep playing if it means you'll stay

And yeah
Loving's you killing me slow, slow
Oh yeah
That's what I want you to know

I broke my neck when I fell for you
And I'll lay here dead if you told me to
Cause there's nothing left that I wouldn't do
Cause I broke my neck when I fell for you

Yeah, yeah, yeah
I've been dumb enough to fuck with fate (dumb enough, dumb enough)
Learned I was wrong, though a little too late (a little too late, yeah a little too late)
True love's fickle and a guessing game (a guessing, nah a guessing game)
You're the one to tell me not to play (I'll do better, I'll do better)
These broken bones turn stick and stone
Not worth the pain, I should've known

I broke my neck when I fell for you
And I'll lay here dead if you told me to
Cause there's nothing left that I wouldn't do
Cause I broke my neck when I fell for you
(I'll do better)
(Cause I broke my neck when I fell for you)

Cause I broke my neck when I fell for you (and I'll lay here)
