

Crutch

RÉN

Maybe if I move
Maybe my troubles won't follow me
I've got none to loose
'Cause everything turned to dust around me
My hope it got so bruised
'Cause circumstance held me and it drowned me
I'm searching for the glue
To try and fix these broken things around me

My love if I loose
My mind I'd be so ashamed if you witnessed
I try my best for you
To try and keep my head but my God it's slipping
An unspoken truth
I feel my body dying as the clock keeps ticking
And everything I knew is painted with a fear that it's all for nothing

Could I interrupt?
If the weight should get too heavy I'll help hold this burden
I'll walk with you my love
Into the fires of hell if it would ease the burning
But please don't loose your trust
The man I know is brave so don't you dare say you're folding
I can be your crutch
Until we both grow old and the curtains closing

Maybe if I move
Maybe my troubles won't follow me
My love I give to you
Every single inch of my soul while it bleeds
Baby I'm confused
But I know in your arms I find relief
Baby if I loose my mind
Would you stay with me?
