

Uninvited

RÉN

You came in uninvited
Two planets collided
I don't really like it being on my own
Take that how you like it
I don't really mind if you're still undecided
Please just know

All I wanna do is get inside
Of the moment when it's right and have a moment with no ties
And then go
Shake my fries
Make my order supersized
And multiply and then divide and get low

It's a simple situation
With an obvious equation
You and me collaborating for the night
Leave no room for hesitation
Or for awkward conversation
Just enjoy the syncopation when it's right

You came in uninvited
Two planets collided
I don't really like it being on my own
Take that how you like it
I don't really mind
If you're still undecided
Please just know

All I wanna do is get inside
Of the moment when it's right and have a moment with no ties
And then go
Shake my fries
Make my order supersize
And multiply and then divide and get low

Get it, get it

Read my mind
Let's exist between the lines
Shooting past the stopping signs moving fast, the stars align
And when you get some time could you give some time
Back to mine with a glass of wine and if I get in front
Would you get behind
Could you do that thing I like

It's a simple calculation
With an easy formulation
You and me fornicating for the night
Let me make my presentation
In person on procreation
Let's forget all obligations and unwind

You came in uninvited
Two planets collided
I don't really like it being on my own

I don't really mind

All I wanna do is come inside
Of the moment when it's right
And have a moment with no ties
And then go
Open wide
And multiply and then divide
And get low, get low, get low

I just wanna come together as two people in this moment sharing something beautiful
Shh don't speak
