

Hey, uh it's 11:11 and I just want Louise to make wishes at that time and I know it's silly and I hope you're okay, and I hope you get all that you wish for

Two missed calls and I check and they be all from Ernie's he asked me "if I'm feeling good" but I'm feeling the furthest. I mean I'm feeling great but something in my spirit's burning see me in the city swerving always hungry always learning. But sometimes I just feel I'm lurking, waiting for a sign like I'm a cop without a missing person building up these bridges only purposely so I can burn them run away from obligation instead of moving I'm reversing

It's my two missed calls and the nights of the fall and the days of the mall and the bathroom stall with the graffiti I'm rapping in asking my self like oh my God is this happening I got a record out this year and now I'm right back at again but thoughts can still be poisoned this is how many of us are bad at it tracking all these cages all this screaming all this rattling I'm screaming so the world could know why I'm passionate, Yeah

Shooting stars and swimming pools diamonds with the high heels

I ask what you wish for 11:11

Living life and feeling loose getting high and sipping goose

I ask what you wish for 11:11, 11:11, 11:11

I ask what you wish for 11:11, 11:11, 11: 1

Girl, I ask what you wish for 11:11

Swimming pools, with the nice tutus, bikini now back you got all the moves who am I with these shabby venomous feelings so irrelevant in my head again man I wish I was a little adequate instead of feeling like the elephant, corner of the room I'm backed up but I got a good view

Ask me what I wish for (do it) ask me if it's true I won't lie this isn't simple (not simple) but I never wish for me and you cause, my time it's my time and my wishes can't be spent so if there someone listening well then you know what I want to get
