Patience

Rence

Purple rain, on my Prince shit
Young [?]
Blink twice and you might miss
One time for the misfits
One time for the track six
For the ones that'll never make the setlist
Enough with all the questions

Maybe I'm a product of my generation
I don't wanna be another imitation
Ooh, ooh
You just tryna live up to your limitations
I'm just tryna come up in the conversation
Ooh, ooh

They keep testing my patience
They keep bringing me down, down, down, down, down
I just gotta have patience
Think I need it right now, right now
They keep testing my patience
They keep bringing me down, down, down, down, down
I just gotta have patience
Think I need it right now, right now

I was watchin' from the bleachers
Now I'm runnin' 'til my feet hurt
Y'all are quick to grab a feature
Put it on a track like a sneaker
Fuck it, I just wanna have my face on a t-shirt
Fuck it, I don't wanna have to think 'bout my Visa
Until that's true, I'ma keep doin' what I have to do

Maybe I'm a product of my generation
I don't wanna be another imitation
Ooh, ooh
You just tryna live up to your limitations
I'm just tryna come up in the conversation
Ooh, ooh

They keep testing my patience
They keep bringing me down, down, down, down, down
I just gotta have patience
Think I need it right now, right now
They keep testing my patience
They keep bringing me down, down, down, down, down
I just gotta have patience
Think I need it right now, right now

They keep testing my patience
Patience, patience, patience
(They keep bringing me down, down, down, down, down)
Patience, patience
I just gotta have
Patience, patience, patience
(Think I need it right now, right now)
Patience, patience
