

Beloved

Rend Collective

I can't imagine what it feels like as a father
To have to see your children tear apart each other
Out of all the hating and the fighting
All the breaking and dividing
Will the answer ever come
I know You pray that we'd be one

We are your beloved
All of us beloved
You don't see left or right
You just see Your precious child
We are Your beloved

You re-imagine all our enemies as brothers
And build a home within the shelter of each other
We gotta let our love do all the talking
See the person through the problem
Because together we are strong
Maybe we can be as one

We are your beloved
All of us beloved
You don't see left or right
You just see Your precious child
We are Your beloved

What if just three words could change the world
You are beloved
With your fractures, failures, flaws and scars
You are beloved
You're the apple of God's eye
His treasure and his prize
What if just these words could change the world

We are your beloved
All of us beloved
You don't see left or right
You just see Your precious child
We are Your beloved
