Why?

Rendy Pandugo

Our love is such a dream
Fragile and cold as it seems
It was beautiful before
Now we can't taste it anymore

Distracted by the time
Surrounded by the lies
We are broken by the words
We had everything, and now it's lost

Why should we sick about?
Why do we hate each other?
Why should we sick about?
Can we just stay together?
We can keep the love forever!

Ooh ooh ooh

All we need is just to compromise
And make all these things right
Stop this pain, I'm losing my brain
Can't we just rewind, start all over again?

Bring all the memories
Stitched up by the melodies
Just don't worry
We're gonna feel like
That's where we are meant to be

(Why should we say goodbye?) Can you tell me why?
(Why do we hate each other?) Oooh
Why should we say goodbye?
Can we just stay together?
We can keep the love forever
Why should we say goodbye? (Say goodbye)
Why do we hate each other? (each other)
Why should we say goodbye?
Can we just stay together?
We can keep the love forever

We will fight for something we believe, oh yeah
And we'll give up for something that we can't deny, oh yeah
And Here we are, in the edge of the dark
We don't need to feel rush
Cause we'll find the way out, oh yeah
Oooh, we'll find the way out

The times are hardest
When all we fighting was each other
We at war while we know love is all that matters
We kept falling to the same kind of broken promises
I need to go back to the core cause I'm losing focus
Oh, Lord (Ooh, Lord)
(Yeah, I'm here to stay, girl)
(We can find a way, girl)
('Till I found a way)
I need an ego check

Spoon-fed you my verses
Here's a humble pie I'm serving
I'm learning 'bout self love and forgiving
Lemme ask you this question
"Why do we fight when all we got was each other?"
Listen

(There is a place for us)
(There is a hope for love)
(There is a home for love)
(This is the place where we were meant to be)
