

I Hate Boston

Reneé Rapp

I was just a tourist
You got to be a big hometown hero
Made you feel important
Still stuck in your high-school yearbook
Why'd we have to cover so much ground
You showed me around
As far as I'm concerned, they should just burn the whole city down

How'd you make me hate Boston?
It's not its fault that
You don't love me
Had its charm but it lost it
It's not its fault
Just a casualty
And casual's the way you chose to leave

Hid me in your basement
God forbid, you're not the center of attention
Family confrontation
Probably started 'cause my name was mentioned
I heard your father's sleeping on the couch
He sure got around
As far as I'm concerned, they should just burn the whole city down

How'd you make me hate Boston?
It's not its fault that
You don't love me
Had its charm but it lost it
It's not its fault
Just a casualty

How'd you make me hate Boston?
The whole thing is haunted
How do you sleep?
Oh, when you held me hostage
You must be exhausted
Don't you miss me?
And casual's the way you chose to leave
And you're all over every single street
