

afterthoughts

renforshort

Maybe when my time comes
And I lay my head down to rest
I'll close my eyes and dream about
A place far away from all this stress
I let my thoughts consume my mind
I can't believe this world is such a mess
I guess the only thing to do
Is hide away my feelings like the rest

Cuz this life
Doesn't always
Go the way it should
Sometimes bad
Things happen
To people that are good
It's not fair

Wonder if the weight of it
Is keeping everybody up at night
Worry doesn't change a thing
Rather feel it all, then feel alright
Sometimes when I drift away
That's the only time that I'm myself
Tell me everything's okay
Cuz I could use a little bit of help

Cuz this life
Doesn't always
Go the way it should
Sometimes bad
Things happen
To people that are good
It's not fair

Maybe when my time comes
And I can lay my head down to rest
