time machine

renforshort

Tell me if you
Had a time machine
Would you go back
Would you erase me
When it ended
After I fell hard
Thought I'd hate you
For stepping on my heart

Would you go back to the party where you met me
Called a cab and just gone home
Cause I wouldn't change a thing
I would just live it once more

Oh why are the good things the first things we forget
Where do the good things go
If I had a time machine to go back to the start
Will you break my heart, again?

Cause I remember driving round with you
For no reason
I just thought it was cool
You erasing
All those walks in June
Do you even care if I moved on from you?

Would you go back to the party where you met me
Called a cab and just gone home
Cause I wouldn't change a thing
I would just live it once more

Oh why are the good things the first things we forget
Where do the good things go
If I had a time machine to go back to the start
Will you break my heart, again?

Oh why are the good things the first things we forget
Where do the good things go
If I had a time machine to go back to the start
Will you break my heart, again?
