Everything I do you say is beautiful
Cut myself off everything unusual
I'm sorry if I made you tear up once or twice
Listen to your friends, you know they're always right

Take my heart once again
Hold it like you're innocent
Take my life like it's yours
Don't leave me here to watch it pour

We keep going like waves in motion
I jump in your ocean again
Stuck in the rhythm of blind devotion
Dancing, broken till when?

Every time I leave, you're calling up my phone
Asking me what time I think I will come home
Suss me out, but the feelings mutual
Both to blame, I'm willing to forget it all

Take my heart once again
Hold it like you're innocent
Take my life like it's yours
Don't leave me here to watch it pour

We keep going like waves in motion
I jump in your ocean again
Stuck in the rhythm of blind devotion
Dancing, broken till when?

I don't know what we've become
You just say it's all for fun
Everyone tells me to run away
Tried to ride the broken tides
I took the lows, you took the highs
I clipped my wings so you could fly alone

We keep going like waves in motion
I jump in your ocean again
Stuck in the rhythm of blind devotion
Dancing, broken till when?
