

Everything You Feel

REO Speedwagon

You are everything you feel
Everything you know
Everyone you ever love
All that you let go

Everything you hide
All that you reveal
Everything you overcome
You are everything you feel

You tell me you're afraid
Of what's in front of you
The scars of your abuse
They cover you

And I wonder and I fear
What will become of you
So trace your anger right to the source
Look into the eyes of the truth

And remember
You are everything you choose
Everything you find
All that you can't live without
All you leave behind

Everything you seek
Everything you lose
Everything you treasure
You are everything you choose

Slipping through the cracks
Ever since you were a child
Lost in the shuffle
Just trying to survive

You can sink into denial
There's only so long you can hide
Trapped in a habit
Drowning in excess
You're up against a wall that even you can't climb

Or you can use your fears to guide you
And your rage as fuel?
You've gotta leave some rubber
On the road to recover

Everything you feel
Everything you know
Everyone you ever love
All that you let go

Everything you hide
All that you reveal
Everything you sacrifice
You are everything you feel

You are everything you feel

Can you feel it now
