

Put on a smile and let me unwind
Just pretend you listen, poker face
True emotion never show but mine
Yours where hidden why'll I gave me heart

A true friend without judgement
Yours where only words if only I'd known
A helping hand while others failed me
Here's the truth you stabbed me in the back
Now I know a heart is what you lack

Wound me deeply
Infringe my trust
Call it friendship for the lighthearted days
My pain's frozen
Locked in time
Still it hurts me, I still feel betrayed

The fake compassion felt so genuine
Daids the right words when I was in need
Your emotion stayed behind your smile
While I put my heart out on the line

A true friend with true secrets
Why you lied to me if only I knew
A caring heart while other left me
Here's the truth you left me in the dark
And your friendship left a darken mark

Wound me deeply
Infringe my trust
Call it friendship for the lighthearted days
My pain's frozen
Locked in time
Still it hurts me, I still feel betrayed

Form your verdict and condemn me
Have you heard the story from both sides
Let me fall just when I called out
???
Abandon me while my heart was bleeding?

Wound me deeply
Infringe my trust
Call it friendship for the lighthearted days
My pain's frozen
Locked in time
Still it hurts me, I still feel betrayed
