

Killing Time

Revis

Are we too old to start again
We were too young to ever end
Looks like tomorrow never knows
Have we been living under the shadows

Watching the clock spin on the wall
All of the numbers start to bleed
They like to say I've got it all
But you're the one missing

Gimme a second hand to hang from
Maybe a minute on your mind
Is there a day that we can count on
Killing Time?
I feel a rush when you start leaving
Watching your face when you walk by
Is it too much for us to remember
Killing Time?

So here we are, we meet again
All of the stars lined up to win

Watching the rain we start to fall
All of the memories catching me
They used to say we had its all
So what are we missing

Gimme a second hand to hang from
Maybe a minute on your mind
Is there a day that we can count on
Killing Time?
I feel a rush when you start leaving
Watching your face when you walk by
Is it too much for us to remember
Killing Time?

Gimme a second hand to hang from
Maybe a minute on your mind
Is there a day that we can count on
Killing Time?
I feel a rush when you start leaving
Watching your face when you walk by
Is it too much for us to remember
Killing Time?
