

Searching For Someone

Revis

We stepped out amongst all the strangers
I remember the place that we found
Watching the lights on the bridge flowing down
When there was no one around

Now all of the faces look different
And all the things that can make up a scene
Don't look the same without you anymore
It's never quite what it means

See there's no reason searching for someone else
Other than you, other than you
Someone to love

I looked outside of my window
At the moon sitting over my head
Thinking there's something that I could have done
Or something I should have said

We stood looking helpless like children
Knowing love for the very first time
Now there is nothing that I can do
To get you out of my mind

See there's no reason searching for someone else
Other than you, other than you
Someone to love

I was just thinking about you
Tell me how could you know
How could you know, what I'm thinking of

Won't you let me know if you can still see
Something in your heart
That reminds you of me
Oh, oh, oh, woo hoo

Now there's no reason searching for someone else
Other than you, other than you

See there's no reason searching for someone else
Other than you, other than you
Someone to love

I was just thinking about you
Tell me how could you know
How could you know, what I'm thinking of

No reason searching for someone else
Other than you
See there's no reason searching for someone
Someone to love
