

Dystopian Vermin

Revocation

Kill or be killed
A hereditary trait
Evolved to propagate and dominate
All bow before our might

Born from order and chaos
Enthroned on the predator's apex
An aberration of the natural order

Eliminating all threats
Both real and perceived
Our brood an ever growing weed

Creating a counterfeit utopia
Artificial perfection
Unforeseen consequences fracture our grand design

We bred like rats
Infesting the maze
Driven to overpopulate
The scales of balance overturned

Verminous, ravenous
Self inflicted violence
The serpent devours its own tail

Circling the drain
Dragged below by the undertow
Population sinks into a black hole

Writhing in filth
An orgy of suffering
Knife wounds run deep
Sever the vein
We gnash and claw
Tearing ourselves apart
Eyes black like a shark as blood runs from our rabid maws

Oroboros
Devourer of self
Welcoming extinction
We bid this world farewell

Oroboros
We beckon to thee
Trigger the kill switch
Inbred in all humanity

Oroboros
We beckon to thee
Trigger the kill switch
Inbred in all humanity
