OPEN A WINDOW

Rex Orange County

Can I open a window?
Can somebody open the door?
There's so many reasons
I can barely take it anymore

Stuck here and I never seem to get away but I'll hang on Seasons change but you don't ever, oh
Oh, soon as I can see your face I'm fine I'm sure
I'm tryna find a way to get out

So can I open a window?
Can somebody open the door?
There's so many reasons
I can barely take it anymore

Fuck this, I might leave the people telling me what I should do
They want change but you don't ever, oh
Oh, trying to ignore the thought of wanting to
But every single time that I do
I'm like, um

Could I open a window?
Can somebody open the door?
There's so many reasons
I can barely take it anymore
No

Yeah, so what the fuck?
Niggas feeling stuck
Really feeling stuck
Like the middle car on freeway pile up with semi trucks
Open door but you can't
Try to run but you pant
Outta breath, you can't vent
'Cause the AC acting up
Nah really, if something feeling dirty to me
At the roots like a tree
See, I just up and I leaf
It ain't pertaining to me
I don't engage I don't care
They like "You get it?"
I'm like yeah and get the fuck outta here
See I concur, I'm modest
I'm Tyler, I'm honest
I never bite my tongue, it's for the better I promise
You stuck, then move
Because I'm running like sinus
I nose, they quiet
Like the last e in silence

There's so many reasons
I can barely take it anymore
