

Miracle

REYKO

Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you make me invincible
And take away the pain?
Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you do the unthinkable
And start over again?

A minute takes a day inside the walls that keep me in Can't help but think about the time I let all begin
Now silently I'm waiting for something that I'm still Not aware of

I wish I knew the way to lift the stone inside my chest
The more I try ignoring it the heavier it gets
Now quietly I'm waiting for something that I know
I'm afraid of

I need it coming my way
I need it coming my way

Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you make me invincible
And take away the pain?
Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you do the unthinkable
And start over again?

I'm drowning in a place where no one seems to really care
The emptiness is bigger when I make myself aware
Now suddenly I'm looking for something that I know I was part of

I need it coming my way
I need it coming my way

Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you make me invincible
And take away the pain?
Waiting for a miracle
Waiting for a change
Could you do the unthinkable
And start over again?

I'm waiting for a miracle