Never felt so different
Never been so gone
Figuring out the manner
How to carry on
Acting and pretending
Trying to ignore
Every little thing my mind is trying to recall

No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The moment that we shared will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday
No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The story that we wrote will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday

Here's another memory
Picture passing by
Trying to get noticed
Be idealised
Question after question
Lingering through my mind
Looking for the answers
Deep between the lines

Old days are far away now Just like another lifetime

No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The moment that we shared will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday
No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The story that we wrote will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday

I remember Saturday

No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The moment that we shared will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday

No matter what I do nothing is the same
No matter what I say everything has changed
The story that we wrote will forever stay
'Cause I remember Saturday

Old days are far away now (I remember)
Just like another lifetime
Old days are far away now
(I remember)
Just like another lifetime
