

Start Again

REYKO

The picture is clear
The things that I have done
Are surely
Just trophies
Sometimes I think about

And I could leave it all behind
Jump into the void and pray
And I could risk it all at once
'Cause who cares
It's time to start again

I'm listening around me
It all just sounds to me
Like some kind of language
That I no longer speak

And I could leave it all behind
Jump into the void and pray
And I could risk it all at once
'Cause who cares
It's time to start again
Time to start again
