

Melancholy

Rezz

All these thoughts are running through my head
I can't control it they are taking me down with them
Wish I knew why I am haunted
It would be easier to try and start again

And I'd feel like new
In a world I'm used to hiding from
I'd feel brand new
I would know where I stand

All these thoughts are running through my head
Head
Running through my head
Head
My head

Wondering if my intentions
Will soon replace what is in front of me here and now
There is something underlying
The melancholy in my mind
Lost in the clouds

And I'd feel like new
If I could get out of the rainstorms
And this would be through
I will hold on till then

All these thoughts are running through my head
Head
Running through my head
Head
My head
