

Heart Attack Days

Miller, Rhett

Sunset on a wrecking ball
Killing time while it's mine to kill
I am empty in all the important ways
Heart attack days

Making beds in a house on fire
Hanging pictures while the plaster cracks
I am eager to be someone you replace
Heart attack days

Let's spend the night together
Let's spend the night and never
Spend the night together again

Sunset on a wrecking ball
Sweet nothings and the end is near
We are lying here to one another's face
Heart attack days

Let's spend the night together
Let's spend the night and never
Spend the night together again

Making time in a tangle of limbs
Staying up while the walls fall down
We are powerless in an electric phase
Heart attack days

Let's spend the night together
Let's spend the night and never
Spend the night together again

We are empty in all the important ways
Heart attack days

Let's spend the night together
Let's spend the night and never
Spend the night together again
Let's spend the night together
Let's spend the night and never
Spend the night together again
Together again