

All I Need

Rhett Walker Band

Tell me will I ever catch a break
'Cause the storms roll on and where I am
It does not feel safe
I don't know what I should even pray
But here I am, here my hands are raised

The rain keeps falling down
As the waters flood this town
On my knees I'll be found
All I need, all I need is You

Show me once again that you are real
Oh, this wounded heart let it start to feel
You told me love would always be enough
And here I am, my hands lifted up

Wash my eyes to see you
Wash the stains away
Give me faith to trust you
'Cause you're the rising day
