

Take Me Down

Rhino Bucket

- riff -

I'm not one to brag, but I used to be a hell'uva happy man
I never stood a change
Suicide would have been a better plan
A two faced evil game
From the day you walked in and said hello
But still I chose to play, you got high and you left me low

Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Down so low that I'm never going to get back up

- riff -

In a perfect world
I would have seen you for all that you're worth
But in a twisted turn
I let you tear me apart with all your hurt

Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Down so low that I'm never going to get back up

- riff -

- solo -

Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Take Me Down, just little bit further
Down so low that I'm never going to get back up
