

Faraway

Rhodes

I stayed in bed too late again
An open window letting in the rain

I like the feeling on my face

As I dream out the morning
All the way into the middle of the day
I said I just can't seem to wake

Then you came in and said, "I love you."
I know that it's hard sometimes to chase the pain away

Oh, tell me how does it feel?
Tell me, how does it feel?
Tell me, how does it feel?
To be loved by someone so faraway

It's funny how these troubles seem so small
Now you're around me all I want
Is you to know I'm always yours
I reached out for your hand and pulled you close
And you let yourself fall back down onto the bed

You kissed me on my head

And I held you and said I'm sorry
I know that it's hard sometimes to carry all this weight

Oh, tell me how does it feel?
Tell, me how does it feel?
Tell, me how does it feel?
To be loved by someone so faraway

To be loved
To be loved
To be loved, oh

Tell me, how does it feel?
Tell me, how does it feel?
Tell me, how does it feel?
To be loved by someone
To be loved by someone so faraway
