

The Blues Ain't Workin' on Me

Rhonda Vincent

There's a new expression on my face I ain't seen in quite a while

Must be a smile

There's a new direction in my life and I can't wait to see

Where it takes me

I'm no longer lost in the past

Even my troubles just roll off my back

No the blues ain't workin' on me, those old memories

Can't put the hurt in my heart

Baby, love is lettin' me know I'm finally free

And 'cause of you I'll always be

No, the blues ain't workin' on me

Anytime the sun would start to shine

Some dark cloud would come around and start raining down

Since I found the shelter of your arms

I don't feel the rain no more so let it pour

Might be times when we lose our way

But I know tomorrow I'm still gonna say
