

Stranger

Rhys Lewis

You're still a stranger but I know you're good at accents and you'd like to be an actor and you've learnt to speak Italian and French

You're still a stranger but I know you hurt your knee when you were hiking in the mountains 'cause you took too many mushrooms with your friends

You're still a stranger but I know that you're the sister of 3 brothers and you love them like a mother because you're the oldest one

You're still a stranger so I know it might sound strange but I sure hope that we're not strangers for too long

'Cause ever since we said goodbye
You've been all that's on my mind
I want more than two nights in July
So come back baby
Come back and change my life

You're still a stranger but I know that you're a fan of sixteen candles and the breakfast club and every other film that John Hughes made

You're still a stranger but I feel it in my stomach, if you let me I could love you, that my heart would fall as fast as summer rain

You're still a stranger but I know you love the 80s for the acid wash and shoulder pads, that you help but dance to Grace Jones songs

You're still a stranger so I know I might sound strange but I don't think that we'll be strangers for too long

'Cause ever since we said goodbye
You've been all that's on my mind
I want more than two nights in July
So come back baby
Come back and change my life
Change my life

You're still a stranger but I know that you're cold-blooded 'cause you had to buy a jacket even though the day was 22 degrees
You're still a stranger but I know you were engaged and that your grandma had to say "don't rush a lifetime and get married just for me"

You're still a stranger but I know when you're in London that you like to ride the buses and your favourite seat is upstairs at the front

You're still a stranger so I know that I sound crazy but I hope that us two strangers fall in love

'Cause ever since we said goodbye
You've been all that's on my mind
I want more than two nights in July
So come back baby
Come back and change my life
Change my life

Come back baby
Come back and change my life
Change my life
Change my life
Change my life
