

What's The Point Of Crying

Rhys

So you wrote today
To see if I'm ok
Only took 5 weeks to do
Sure you've crossed my mind
But not all the time
I make sure my plates all full

I haven't really thought that much about it
I don't even want you to explain
Sitting in a bar
Really really far far away

Of course it's never easy when it breaks
A heart can break in many different shapes
Wasn't in the cards
Future isn't ours
That's ok

But soon the days will be the same
So what's the point of crying anyway

It's karaoke night
It's a talent show
Between songs I fight back tears
I can't handle beer
Where to after here
I know I'm not going home

I have so much freedom now that I can waste
Don't want to spend it all in one place
Need to spread it out
See what it's about
For myself

But soon the days will be the same
So what's the point of crying anyway

What's the point of crying anyway
What's the point of crying anyway

So you wrote today
And it felt ok
Only took 1 year to get here
Just a little cut
Doesn't hurt that much
But you're always gonna be there

Cause soon the days will be the same
So what's the point of crying anyway