

Bend

Ria Mae

All night, straight ahead at the headlights
Scream at me, baby, yelling like I ruined your life
All night with my back against the wall
Push me, push me, I'll never fall

Baby, this mistrust is contagious
I'm going crazy, looking for something to save us

You can try and bend my heart but it won't break
You can change my clothes, you can change my name
Break break break out of these chains
I can bend bend bend so far, but I won't break

Disappear in the middle of night
Shame baby, when its good, it's so right
I'm tired of it now, stop building all these walls
Head trip now, head trip, then we fall off

Baby, this mistrust is contagious
I'm going crazy, looking for something to save us

You can try and bend my heart but it won't break
You can change my clothes, you can change my name
Break break break out of these chains
I can bend bend bend so far, but I won't break

You hold onto my heart so hard
And I just follow as you spin me around
You fill me up with fear so far that I can't swallow
And I can't make a sound

You can try and bend my heart but it won't break
You can change my clothes, you can change my name
Break break break out of these chains
I can bend bend bend so far, but I won't break

You can try and bend my heart but it won't break
You can change my clothes, you can change my name
Break break break out of these chains
I can bend bend bend so far, but I won't break
