

Face To Face

Ria Mae

With every moment that goes by
Every second in silence
I know that you're waiting
If it's any consolation
Wish you could know that I'm hurting
But only for you

Hurt looks and hurts looks, keeps us doing circles
You're already forgiven I see that he hurt you
Don't let me wake up on my own again
Face to face, with my capabilities of disappointment
Thought I had opened up by talking off your ear
When you needed me just silent

Trying to calm you down but I just don't know how Trying to hold it in, trying to spit it out
Questions from my lips, answers far from your face
I understand mistakes

Hurt looks and hurts looks, keeps us doing circles
You're already forgiven I see that he hurt you
Don't let me wake up on my own again
Face to face, with my capabilities of disappointment
Thought I had opened up by talking off your ear
When you needed me just silent
Oh, silent

Take these words out
There's just meaning left and I've been hanging on it
I still make believe
You could hear me crying and know all the things I couldn't say

Face to face, with my capabilities of disappointment
Thought I had opened up by talking off your ear
When you needed me just silent
Oh, silent
Silent