

Rare Vibration

Richard Ashcroft

Life... life... life...
Tearing you apart from inside
A universe out there
What's in your mind?
You try...
All those friends
They just seem to lie

Soon... soon... soon...
You'll be a part of me
I'll be a part of you
Let me roll the stone from that tomb
The gloom
Hope springs eternal
How do you do

You've got a rare vibration
I see no complication
I take that medication
And I just let you go

Lay it down
Just lay it down

Stone... stone... stone...
Ruins of a city
Between our toes
A civilization been and gone
Oh my
Recognize the now under this sun

Time... time... time...
Never in control, why d'ya your mind
All these concepts that we cannot grasp
Our last breath will be wondering what has passed

You've got a rare vibration
I see no complication
I'll catch your sighs
I'll realise a better way

You've got a rare vibration
I see no complication
I'll realise, I'll visualize
Something new for us
We'll breathe in the air, pure air
Just loving life, oh we don't care
Was that a sigh, tears in your eye
I think they're there, oh, oh

Now lay it on, lay, lay, lay it down
Lay it down
Just, just, just lay it down
Ah, lay it down
Just, just lay it down
Yeah, just lay it down
Mmmmm, mmmmm, mmmmm

Oooooooooh, Oooooooooh, Oooooooooh
Mmmmmmm
