

Always

Richard Marx

I wonder if I ever passed you
In a crowded room somewhere
I'm sure I would've noticed
If I'd seen you standing there

'Cause I've been searching for you
Long before I ever saw your face
And this love I've found with you
Is the love I wish I knew
Always

I'm sure somehow I must have held you
In a lifetime once before
I'm sure I must have kissed you
A hundred million times or more

And I'll spend every minute
For the rest of all my days
Doing everything I can
To give you everything I am
Always

I gave up believing long ago
Something sweet as this
Ever could exist
But now it's all I know

I only hope that our tomorrows
Outnumber all our yesterdays
Let's stop the years from racing
'Cause we've only got today

And I've been searching for you
Long before I ever saw your face
And this love I've found with you
Is the love I'll hold onto
Always
