

Your Goodbye

Richard Marx

Another morning just like all the rest
Still nothing beatin' here inside my chest
Day turns into night
As if everything's alright
And then the lonely shadows fall

Look at what's become of me
I can't remember how to breathe
Never knew that I could hurt this way

I can't hold on
I can't let go
My head denies what my heart knows
It's something I can't bring myself to say
I don't believe I'll ever quite survive
Your goodbye

Starin' at your picture on the wall
Is keeping me
From any sleep at all
Lonely in the crowd
The silence is too loud
And all this darkness hurts my eyes

Just look at what's become of me
I can't remember how to breathe
Never knew that I could hurt this way

I can't hold on
I can't let go
My head denies what my heart knows
It's something I can't bring myself to say
I don't believe I'll ever quite survive
Your goodbye

Wake me now
And tell me I've been dreaming
Turn back the clock somehow

I can't hold on
I can't let go
My head denies what my heart knows
It's something I can't bring myself to say
I don't believe I'll ever quite survive
Your goodbye
