

Fade to Blue

Richie Havens

In the morning when I wake up without you
My body starts to ache, baby, my head too
I've been abusing myself since the age of two, baby
Seems like that long, girl, since I saw you

Misery always on my mind
Sometimes I feel like committing a crime, baby
My whole world is falling through
Without you, babe, I'm fading to blue
Fading to blue

Ever since I left you, baby, things ain't been the same
I've been staying out late at night, girl, don't even know my name
I've been down and broken-hearted, broken-hearted blue
I'll never understand the things you put me through

Misery always on my mind
Somehow I feel like committing a crime, girl
My whole world is falling through
Without you, girl, I'm fading to blue

Come back
Come back, oh

I'm fading to blue

In the morning when I wake up without you
My body starts to ache, baby, my head too
I've been abusing myself, girl, since the age of two
And it seems like that long since, since I saw you

Misery always on my mind
Sometimes I feel like committing a crime, girl
No I won't
Without you, babe, I'm fading to blue
Fading to blue

Come back
Come back, girl
