Cross the Line

Richie Kotzen

Indecisive from the begining, caught inside of what's in your head Wrapped around a ball of confusion, now is the time to rectify

I can't see clearly which way to turn,
I don't remember what I've learned I tried to live here in my world, I tried to live there inside hers

I know the difference brtween the sides
I'm in the middle cause I just can't cross the line

I fought the demons in my head, I burned the light from both ends
I trust nobody unless I can, I walk the wire until I'm dead

I know the difference brtween the sides
I'm in the middle cause I just can't cross the line

I know the difference brtween the sides
I know the feelin' from up to down I see direction from left to right, I'm in the middle but I just can't cross the line
Cross the line
