

Faded

Richie Kotzen

Janis worked the late shift in an all night coffee house down by the 23 east Had high hopes of being a movie star till she married a merchant marine under her hat where the silver screen dreams are a haunting memory is a too true story of hard luck faith struck by reality

If you wanna find some you got to try some more what world you die for when you're faded if you got a life open your eyes before your faded

Arnie was a hitter for twin valley little league signed up in the summer of '73 Had big dreams of winnin the new world series till daddy went away on permanent leave behind the sweat and frustrated times the fight to make ends meet is that age old story of what it takes the right time at the right place

If you wanna find some you got to try some more
what would you die for when you're faded If you got a life then open your eyes before you are faded
If you wanna find some you got to try some more
what would you die for when you're faded if you got a life then
open your eyes before your faded
