

Sovereign

Richie Kotzen

Stained glass windows in the foyer... I watch the people as they walk on by. I got message for you father... I just cant tell it till I cross that line...

I imagine heaven as a foreign villa... Where food is plenty and the stars all shine... Cobble stone streets I walk for miles and miles...

My feet they never seem to touch the ground...
O' in time we will see...

Life may show you the fear... But I've seen the gates of hell, I know what's real... Time may teach you to heal...
but mary will send the one... Sovereign is all love...

I been through hell and back boy its tired... there ain't nobody who can break my stride... this life of live and die by social liars has gone on far too long I'm ready for change... So let him shine the light...

Life may show you the fear... But I've seen the gates of hell, I know what's real... Time may teach you to heal.
But mary will send the one. Sovereign is all love... I found my truth...

Life may show you the fear... but I've seen the gates of hell, I know what's real... Time may teach you to heal...

But mary will send the one... Sovereign is all love...

Time may teach you things that you believe... But the love that I mention... Sovereign is all love...
