

Livin' Alone

Richie Sambora

Livin' alone, got no one to lean on
When you lay down and sleep, no one to come home to
You close your eyes, ain't no one to dream on
All the hope that you keep, keeps on trying to bloom

When you're livin' alone, you're out on your own
There ain't no one to hold on to
Someone to hold your heart, while you're breaking in some brand new blues

When you're livin' alone

Think to yourself, "Is anybody out there?"
Nobody answers, cause nobody cares
All you've got is a phone and your favorite belongings
Just pictures in frames of your favorite regrets

When you're livin' alone, you're out on your own
There ain't no one to come home to Ain't no pretending, there's no happy ending

Everybody needs somebody
Everybody wants someone
Don't you find yourself alone some day
Every heart needs a home
Everybody needs somebody
Everybody needs someone
Don't wanna find yourself alone some day
Every heart needs a home
When you're livin' alone

Someone to understand, someone to hold your hand
While you're breaking in a brand new broken heart
You're wishing for heaven, as only love can do
When you're livin' alone, you're out on your own
There ain't no one to hold on to
Someone to hold your heart, while you're breaking in some brand new blues

When you're livin' alone
Everybody needs somebody
Everybody wants someone
Don't you find yourself alone some day
Every heart needs a home
Everybody needs somebody
Everybody needs someone
Don't wanna find yourself alone some day
Every heart needs a home
You're livin' alone

You're livin' alone, livin' alone, livin' alone, yeah
Yeah
Not alone
Yeah
You're not alone
Yeah
You're not alone