

Rise Up

Rick Astley

hen there's no space left between us
And all that's left is you
When my darkest hours have faded
And the light is coming through

That's when I rise up
'Cause between us
I find myself when I open up to you
That's when I rise up
Open my eyes
'Cause between us
That's when I rise up
When I open my eyes up
To you

When there's no lie left between us
And all that's left is truth
When the heavy words have fallen
And I reconnect to you

That's when I rise up
'Cause between us
I find myself when I open up to you
That's when I rise up
Open my eyes
'Cause between us
That's when I rise up
When I open my eyes up
To you

And as life goes tumbling on
Our childhood dreams have gone
And I fear the future without you
I fear the future without you
And as the world goes rumbling on
And we've lost where we are from
I fear the flame without you
I fear the flame

That's when I rise up
'Cause between us
I find myself when I open up to you
That's when I rise up
Open my eyes
'Cause between us
That's when I rise up
When I open my eyes up
To you
