

No Vacancy

Righteous Vendetta

I don't know how long this will last
Drowning in the memories of my past
These blank walls became the canvas of my misery
No one could ever see me, see me this way

Never moving on ([?])
Still going strong

No vacancy, no lungs to breathe, no eyes to see it
[?] still [?] those brittle bones I break
I live alone inside this empty home
It's just nothing at night, no vacancy

Feel like every gasp is my last breath
Cling to the pieces of our love
These scarred walls became the story that I hate to tell
But I made it out alive [?]

Never moving on ([?])
Still telling lies

No vacancy, no lungs to breathe, no eyes to see it
[?] still [?] those brittle bones I break
I live alone inside this empty home
It's just nothing at night, no vacancy

No vacancy

I build it up, tear it down, just to build it again
[?] my own

No vacancy, no lungs to breathe, no eyes to see it
[?] still [?] those brittle bones I break
I live alone inside this empty home
It's just nothing at night, no vacancy
No vacancy
It's just nothing at night, no vacancy
