

Angels

Riley Clemons

Do you ever have that feeling
You might not be alone?
Like someone's watching out for you
And deep inside, you know
It must be some kinda guardian
Perfect timing, heaven sent
Another way God's just trying to show

He's still sending angels to us
Little signs of heavenly love
The hand of God dressed in disguise
The more you look, the more you'll find
He's still sending angels

Like a helping hand, you can't explain
Comfort in a time of pain
A bit of sunshine peeking through the rain, yeah
A smile on a cloudy day
A blessing that just came your way
I don't need more proof, it's true

He's still sending angels to us
Little signs of heavenly love
The hand of God dressed in disguise
The more you look, the more you'll find
He's still sending angels

Heaven ain't as far away as we're thinking
Open up your heart, your eyes will see it
And believe it

He's still sending angels to us
Little signs of heavenly love
The hand of God dressed in disguise
The more you look, the more you'll find
He's still sending angels

He's still sending angels
