

Broke

Riley Clemmons

Yeah, I know I am messed up
I'm not ashamed of it
I'm not afraid of it
'Cause I know that Your love
Oh, I was made for it
Lord, I've prayed for it

The flaws and the scars, they say I should change
The pressure of perfection, weighing on my brain
They can't bring me down, 'cause I know my worth now

With You, I don't need to hide
That I'm a little broke inside
You love me when I'm broke inside
'Cause You see my light
Even in my darkest times
You love me when I'm broke inside

When the pain pulls me under
I am saved in it
I found my faith in it
I'm amazed and I wonder
How I'm good enough
For this perfect love

The flaws and the scars, they say I should change
The pressure of perfection, weighing on my brain
They can't bring me down, 'cause I know my worth now

With You, I don't need to hide
That I'm a little broke inside
You love me when I'm broke inside
'Cause You see my light
Even in my darkest times
You love me when I'm broke inside

When I can't love myself, You love me like no one else
You're all I hold onto, nothing else gets me through
When I can't love myself, You love me like no one else
You're all I hold onto, nothing else gets me through

With You, I don't need to hide
That I'm a little broke inside
You love me when I'm broke inside
'Cause You see my light
Even in my darkest times
You love me when I'm broke inside
