RILEY

I'm all in my head again
I'm all out of medicine
I need you to hold me down
Let the drugs settle in

I'm drunk driving, sun rising
Perfect timing, you know that she be wylin'
She on the come down, and I don't come 'round
But she gon' ride it, 'till it's sundown

And now honestly, she wanna be, the one to hit the lottery, she on to me and know I'll hold you down
You don't wanna come around
For you it's hard to see, you harmin' me, she off the peace, cus she a walkin' pharmacy, now she nodding out
She forgot what it's all about

Oh, and I
Wanna be the one that loves you, and you
Can't forget about what we've gone through, can we
Rewind to where we started?
There's never been trust, but it's always been us

Don't talk 'bout timing, I been drunk, still driving
I'm in, Saint Laurent, and all the headlights look like diamonds, shi ning
Like the one I got, before the bills were paid
And it was all a game, and I'm the one you played

And now honestly, she wanna be, the one to hit the lottery, she on to
me and know I'll hold you down
You don't wanna come around
For you it's hard to see, you harmin' me, she off the peace, cus she
a walkin' pharmacy, now she nodding out
She forgot what it's all about

Oh, and I
Wanna be the one that loves you, and you
Can't forget about what we've gone through, can we
Rewind to where we started?
There's never been trust, but it's always been us

Oh, and I
Wanna be the one that loves you, and you
Can't forget about what we've gone through, can we
Rewind to where we started?
There's never been trust, but it's always been us

And there's always been us, there's never been trust
And there's always been us, been us

Drunk driving, she been wylin'
Drunk driving, perfect timing

Drunk driving, she been wylin'
Drunk driving, perfect timing
