

EVERYDAYS

Rilès

Every day I need to believe something better really gonna come
Every day I need to try showing up for living my life
Every day I need to find a way to make it through the storm
Every day I need to be myself maybe a little more
Every day I need to believe God has given me a second chance
Every day I need to try, maybe it's a matter of time
Every day I need to find a way to make it through the storm
Every day I need to be myself maybe a little more

Another day I wake up (wake up)
Every morning I shoot my chance
I try to breathe my way out
Still far away from better days, I want it back
I cannot let the devil inside

Every day I need to believe something better really gonna come
Every day I need to try showing up for living my life
Every day I need to find a way to make it through the storm
Every day I need to be myself just a little more

Every day I need to challenge things, find my own ways, no mistakes, God is great, ah
Cutting pills and better skills, appreciate the rain
Every day I gotta find a way to make it through this world
Every day I need to be myself maybe a little more
Every day I need to believe something better really gonna come
Every day I need to try showing up for living my life
Every day I need to find a way to make it through the storm
Every day I need to be myself instead of what they want

My brother Younès told me to stop apologizing
Putting out songs that I'm not 100% satisfied with
'Cause that's part of the challenge
He also told me that I had no other choice than to make a choice
And I wasn't sure of what to do for this week
It was a weird week and I got fourteen more to go
Can't get weak now, yeah
I get lost in my head sometimes but... I always find a way back
Back to reality
